Do you plan on dropping the millions of customers? What do plan on doing about the fact that 99% of the government's computers are run by MS? Now that AT&T is a government controlled company their service sucks. I can see how making MS a government entity would create so many issues for consumers and hurt our economy worse.. Anything federally regulated and funded sucks. Have you ever had a speeding ticket or tried to get a different phone company? MS actually provides good support.
